NUMBER 30

Ina Ethel Hulse.

In the death of Miss Ina Ethel Hulse, the oldest child of Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Hulse, which occurred last Wednesday p. m., at 5 o'clock in the District parsonage, Columbia has lost one of its most popular young ladies. She was born in Cumberland Co. May 4, 1889, joined the Methodist church at Gradyville when her father was pastor there, and when she was but 10 years old. She came to Columbia about four years ago, with her father when he was made P. E. of this district. She at once became identified with the church here and has been a very active and useful member. When taken sick, nine weeks ago she was an officer in the Epworth League, a teacher in the Sunday school, and the organist of the church, which position she has faithfully filled for two years.

After attending the L. W. T. S. here for some time she went to Russellville, Ky., and entered Logan Female College where she graduated two years ago with the B. S. degree.

At the time she was taken sick she was taking the Normal course and music at the L. W. T. S., preparatory to teach this fall.

Miss Ina was an accomplished, modest and beautiful Christian character, and while her suffering was great, she bore it gracefully and hopefully. She often expressed her appreciation to the many friends who were so kind and thoughtful of her in her last illness.

The funeral was conducted at the Methodist church here last Friday morning by her pastor of whom she was very fond, Rev. B. M. Currie, assisted by Revs. R. T. McConnel, of Greensburg, and J. R. Crawford this city.

A great congregation of sorrowing and sympathizing friends attended the funeral, and floral offerings were beautiful. The interment was in the Columbia cemetery. A beautiful Christian has been taken away in the very prime of life. She will be greatly missed in church and society, but the influence of her beautiful life will abide with us.

The family has the deepest sympathy of the whole community.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas death has again invaded our ranks and taken from us one of our most faithful and beloved members and teachers, Miss Ina Ethel Hulse,

Therefore be it resolved, That the members of the Methodist Sunday School,

1st, That we heartily acknowledge the loss of a most efficient and faithful friend and member,

2nd That, we hereby express our sincere belief that she was a pure, sweet and true Christian character, prepared either to live here and do much good or to enter into the glory of her Lord.

3rd, That, we deeply sympathize with her loved ones in this hour of sorrow, and really weep with them on account of our loss,

4th, That, we strive more diligently to be faithful in our work here, profiting by the example she set for us, treasuring up the sweet influence that abides with us from her life and strive to meet her at last in heaven,

5th, That, a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Secretary's book, a copy to be given to The Adair County News for publication, and another be sent to The Central Methodist Advocate.

Louisville, Ky., May 24 1911.

Dear sir:

As my subscription to your paper has about expired, I inclose $1.00 for paper to be continued.

Your method of paying in advance is a good one and hope it will prove to be successful. There is nothing pleases me more than when my subscribers to the Louisville Times pay their subscription in advance.

I am one of the route agents to Louisville Times and of course I have all addition to read, but as soon as the Adair County News is received these papers are laid aside until this paper is read, for it gives me great pleasure to read it as I am formerly from Cane Valley.

Respectfully,
L. M. Smith,
524 S 3rd St.

Eld. Tobias Huffaker, who made an appointment to preach at Hebron the third Sunday in June, changes the date to the fourth Sunday. The change was made necessary on account of the Co-operation meeting which has been held for Jamestown lasting over the third Sunday, and from the further fact that Eld. Huffaker has been selected to speak on several important topics at said co-operation meeting.

Death of Miss Clara Ann Wilson.

The people of Columbia were not surprised last Saturday afternoon when the intelligence of the death of Miss Clara A. Wilson spread over the city. It was known to the entire town that her condition was serious, and that she could not possibly recover. Notwithstanding her demise had been daily expected for a week, and that her relatives and friends were prepared to meet her passing brought great sorrow to many hearts.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Wilson and was born in Campbellsville September 19, 1889, making her 22 years old. Some years ago, while visiting a sister in Louisville, she made a profession of religion and united with the Baptist Church. Later her membership was removed to the Church at this place, in which she lived a very consistent life until God called her hence. While in health she was a regular attendant at Sunday school and it was not often that she missed a Church service.

The funeral services were held in the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. H. Howerton, assisted by Eld. Z. T. Williams, the building being packed with friends who were there to pay their respects to one they loved in life. After the discourse the remains were conveyed to the city cemetery, followed by several hundred people. The floral offerings were many and very beautiful.

The passing of this young woman leaves only two members of the immediate family, the mother and brother. The separation is a serious blow to them, but they should remember that the beloved daughter and dear sister is now free from pain and the troubles of this world, and that after while they will be made to understand. May the Giver of all that is good bind up their wounded and bleeding hearts, and sanctify this sad death to their good is the wish of The Adair County News.

"Man's Duty to Man," was the subject discussed last Sunday in the Christian church by Eld. Z. T. Williams, pastor. This subject was given him some time ago, and his disposal of it was commendable to himself, and well pleasing to all who heard it. He took as a text, the Golden Rule, and from it he showed man's duty to his fellow creatures. Briefly stating, it was a sermon that touched and stirred the noblest impulses that actuate individuals in their conduct with others. It should be preached throughout the land. Man's duty to man is closely related to man's duty to God, and Bro. Williams brought it out so clearly that the two seem to be one. This community needs more sermons like the one of last Sunday.

In the case of Oliver Willis, against the Board of Trustees of the town of Columbia, tried last week, Judge Carter decided the question at issue in favor of the defendant, Willis is the Marshal of the town of Columbia, and he sought to force the trustees to turn over to him for collection the tax list of the town, which had been given to Geo. R. Coffey, for collection. The trial judge decided that the municipal board had the right to employ a person who was not the marshal to collect the tax,

Mr. A. D. Patterson, sheriff, conveyed Dallas Dooley to the penitentiary last week. He is a white man and was convicted of chicken stealing and was sentenced for from one to five years. While in Frankfort sheriff Patterson was permitted to see the last legal hanging in Kentucky, a negro being executed within the walls of the prison.

A difficulty occurred in the Fairplay country last Friday between Lee Mooley and Ed Burbridge. Burbridge was struck in the head with a double tree, cutting a gash about three inches long.

Not Guilty.

Is the verdict in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs Meader & Son, charged with selling My Coca in Coca Cola bottles. —News Journal Campbellsville,

The case properly reported should read The Coca Cola Co. vs all Competitors. In this case Mr. Wilcock using the Commonwealth of Kentucky for his own use and benefit knowing full well he has no standing in a court of law or equity in this particular case, for he who asks equity must do equity.

Mr. Wilcock and myself put up a somewhat similar drink in taste, color and effect, both said to be the original Coca Cola formula carbonated and put up in 7 oz dark amber bottles of the same height and general size. In selling our goods to the different merchants in Taylor, Adair and adjoining counties the merchants inadvertently get the bottles mixed, Mr. Wilcock getting my bottles and myself his. The different bottlers throughout the state recognizing this have established what we call an exchange system, that is to exchange our bottles when they become mixed.

I wrote to Mr. Wilcock on the 23rd day of March, 1910, that I had some of his bottles on hand and that he had some of mine, that I wished to exchange same, that I would haul his to him and bring mine back at no expense to him whatever. This proposition is still open to Mr. Wilcock, I wrote him a similar letter on June 1st, 1910. He has from that day to this only extended to me the charity of his silence. I also presented the situation to his Attorney, Judge Henry Beauchamp. Judge Beauchamp told me that he advised Mr. Wilcock to exchange bottles with me, Mr. Wilcock still refusing. He who asks equity must do equity. You must come into Court with clean hands. You are trying to crush my business by the aid of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. You are holding over my head the fear of the monster Trust of all, The Coca Cola Co. of Atlanta. You are trying to shut my wind off by getting all my bottles in your possession, knowing that I am a poor man and unable to buy more, but I have wind you never heard of.

Stand up like a man and take your "Dope." You can't stand competition; Don't get my old friend, Jim Saunders, to train the guns of the Commonwealth, of the grand old State of Kentucky vs me again through Meader & Co., but lets exchange bottles and be happy again for its certainly hard for any one man to get the full control of all the water and gas in this country, to monopolize, its too cheap. The News Journal thinks Mr. Wilcock has been imposed upon and that I am the man. Let him without sin cast the first bottle.

Grunting.

Though Parsons for the News are hunting,

Should they report a Doctor grunting,
For it sets said Doctor moaning,

To hear the dear old Parson groaning.
With grunts and groans they'll both pursue you,

Always limping on the leg next to you,

They have the groaning grunts so badly,

Meenese and mine good Parson, Hadley.

Mr. J. C. Strange went out spontaneous last Saturday afternoon. He was quite successful, returning home with two catfish, one 21 inches long and one 18 inches.

Judge John D. Irvine Dead.

Last Monday morning relatives of this place were notified of the death of Judge John D. Irvine, which occurred at his late home, Russell Springs, Sunday night. He was about 68 years old and one of the best known men in Russell county. For many years he was a prominent merchant at Irvine's Store and several years after he retired from the mercantile business, he was elected and served the people of his county as county Judge.

He was an ardent Republican and took a great deal of interest in county politics. Mr. William Irvine, who also lives at Russell Springs, is a brother to the deceased, and Mr. J. D. Irvine, Jr., Creelsboro and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, this city, are his nephew and niece.

A great many friends attended the last sad rites.

It is our understanding that the deceased left a good estate.

A Surprise Dinner.

Mrs. Ella Cave, of Cane Valley, was 71 years old the 17th of this month, and her relatives and friends gave her a surprise dinner, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Farris, where she now lives.

It was a magnificent affair, and highly appreciated by the old lady and enjoyed by all present. The following persons made up the dinner party: Wm. Biggs and wife; F. I. Ingram and wife; Sam Cofer and wife; J. B. Russell and wife; Ed Eubank and wife; R. H. Cofer, Mrs. Elizabeth Farris and daughter, Miss Annie, Mrs. Henry Farris, Mrs. Perry Sullivan, Mrs. Tom Bridgewater, Mrs. Fannie Obanion, Mrs. Susie Page, Mrs. Will Feese, Misses Irene, Sallie, Mamie Davis; Mollie and Ruth Morris, Annie and Zora Feese, Edna Morris, Edna Norene Cofer, Mrs. Chas. Morris and son, Robert, and Mr. Julian Bridgewater.

Every body who can conveniently leave home, should attend the picnic and decoration exercises at the monument, near Green River Bridge, next Saturday.

An interesting program has been arranged to spent the day in an appropriate manner. Do not forget a well-filled basket of provisions.

Mr. Zach Samuel, who returned from New Mexico, last week, states that the Adair County people who have settled in and about Elida are getting along very nicely. He thinks that part of New Mexico will eventually be a good country.

In the suit of Frank Burton against Allen McGaha et al to recover one thousand dollars for misspent lumber, the jury rendered the following verdict: Judgment for $100 in favor of Burton and $138 for McGaha, balance due on saw bill.

The History of the Eighth Grade.

The following paper was read before the graduating class, in the Graded School, by Miss Ruth Paull, this city:

The history of our class is not an eventful one, for we have achieved no great things; no special honors have been ours, we have only worked faithfully the two years we have gone to the Graded School and have, we feel, won our promotion.

September 20, 1909 when the school opened, most of us started. We were indeed fortunate in having Mrs. L. N. Grey for our teacher. Very soon our room established a reputation for perfect order, and we have at least tried to keep it. At the end of the first term, in December, Mrs. Grey was called away. We felt her loss and were indeed sorry to give her up; but who wished to complain when we got Miss Rickman? She was a splendid teacher and we were all very fond of her.

All who passed, and some new ones started back in September, 1910. Mrs. Sanders has been our teacher this year, and we can truthfully say, never was there a better, more painstaking teacher, one more devoted to her pupils or having their interest more at heart. We are all grateful for what she has done for us.

During the entire two years, Prof. Wilson has had charge of our mathematics, and we are greatly indebted to him for the splendid training he has given us in that work.

Although we have never had the highest monthly attendance, we do not consider it a short coming of our class, for several pupils were enrolled who for different reasons stopped, thus causing the lower percent in attendance. It has not been the fault of the faithful ones. Some of the class have had roseola and whooping cough, but in most cases that did not bring the attendance down much.

Of a class of fifteen, fourteen received diplomas. Their names are as follows:

DORA LER EUBANK,
"A little bud of loveliness that should never grow old."

Dora is a good student. She likes History her favorite American hero being one of the Admirals of the Spanish war.

BRYAN GARNETT,
"Deign on the passing world to turn thine eyes.
And pause awhile in learning to be wise."

Bryan came to us a few months since from near Tabor, and at once established his "rep" as a good student and has kept it. Never known to do anything bad. Dreams of being President some day.

RUTH INGRAM,
"A smile, a smile, a beaming smile,
How oft it doth a heart beguile."

Ruth is one of our good humored girls. Never known to be mad. Never gives the teacher any trouble.

GRACE ELIZABETH CONOVER,
"Unto the ground she cast her modest eye,
And ever and anon the bashful blush
Her rosy cheeks did dye."

Grace is one of our best students. Has done good work all the year. Is fond of tennis. After having passed Mrs. Sanders exam's, who can deny that she is ready for High School?

RUTH DEXTER ENGLISH,
"Alas! why quitted, is she changed?
but now
The weight of intellect is on her brow."

Although Dexter is the youngest member of our class, she is one of its best students. Is quiet and doesn't care for athletic games.

EDGAR REED,
"Tis he who gives their hearts a thousand pains."

Edgar has held a high rank in the class both years. Is interested in base ball, having been manager of the team last year.

MARTHA HAINES CRAWFORD,

"Whatever sky's above me,

There's a heart for every fate."

Martha is a good student. She likes tennis and other out door games.

HARRY ALLEN,
"I have met many of these rattles that made a noise and buzzed."

Harry lives in the country but is not distinctively a farmer boy. He works hard in school and plays just as hard on the ball diamond.

SUSAN RUSSELL MILLER,
"I'm most a young lady,
I'll soon wear a train
And do up my hair,
But I'll never be vain."

Susan is one of our best girls, a fine student. Likes out door games, especially Town ball.

ALBIA EUBANK.
"He loved chivalry,
Trouthe and honour, freedom and courteisye."

Albia is an all-round good boy. A good student and interested in athletics.

THOMAS PATTESON,
"And I would that my tongue could utter,
The thoughts that arise in me."

Tom is a member of the Baseball team. He studies hard and is therefore ready for High School. Has had a hard time with whooping cough this spring.

KATE JONES,
"Growing up so meek and good,
Even from her babyhood."

Kate is really a good girl. She studies hard and never gives the teacher any trouble.

ROBERT SUMMERS,
"In my wisdom there is woe,
In my knowledge, care."

Although Robert has had roseola and whooping cough, he has come on to school, studied hard, and is ready for High School.

AND MYSELF,

Having worked faithfully the two years, and been rewarded with promotion, we intend, with the same determination, to enter High School, and to make the most of our every opportunity.

Ruth Paull.

Here are the Facts.

Here are the facts about moving picture shows in the United States.

There are 13,000 of them and they entertain, on the average, 4,000,000 people every day.

In other words, the public is spending $102,000,000 a year for this form of diversion from dull care.

The making of motion films employs an army of actors and workmen, and $18,000,000 was spent for films last year.

Edison gets a royalty ranging from $8,000 to $15,000 a week from his invention and is now sitting up nights to reduce a startling improvement—to make the pictures talk, just like actors, so that the "canned drama" will no longer be a silent performance.

What is the net result of this development?

More fun at less cost to the masses. The day is near when the humblest purse and the smallest hamlet will have art music and drama that lay only within the reach of the richest a few generations ago. And that is progress in the right direction.

The Class of Legislators We Should Elect.

Taking into consideration the fact that at the coming November election we elect our representatives from every district in the State, to enact laws for the welfare and best interests of the citizens of Kentucky; and in view of this fact we should be careful in the selection of the men to represent us at Frankfort. It is to our interest to nominate men and elect them who have some intelligent conception at least, when voting upon a measure as to what laws will be the most beneficial and not burdensome to the common people of our Commonwealth. We have on the statute books of Kentucky now a great many laws that are not enforced, and the courts are powerless to enforce them without the people want them enforced.

There is a law against drunkenness and boot-legging, but ten guilty men escape punishment where one suffers the penalty under this law, and any person who observes the conditions existing will testify to the truthfulness of this statement. The clause of the interstate commerce law permitting the shipping of liquor from one state into the prohibition territory of another is a menace to the citizens who want local option, and there should be some means to remedy the defect: it simply makes drunkards and sots. I believe that when a man orders liquor from a dealer in another State, that the dealer should be prohibited from shipping it to any other person residing in local option territory in another state, except to the party whose name is signed to the order, and the practice of shipping to other persons ought to be stopped, and the man who orders liquor should be compelled to go to the railroad express agent and get the package himself. If such was the case there would be less liquor brought into this county to destroy the souls of the young men, and the older ones as well.

The dog tax is another law that should be repealed by the next Legislature from the fact that it is not a fair, just law; it is generally true that the class of people who own a majority of the dogs are unable to pay tax on them, and a hardship is wrought on the poorer class of people by taxing their dogs, when they are unable to meet their other taxes, to say nothing of the dogs.

If the property owners of Kentucky were required by law to list their real and personal property at a fair cash value the taxes from this source would be amply sufficient to meet the running expenses of state Government without any additional burdens. In my opinion there is one law that should be added to the Kentucky statutes, and that is a measure allowing the circuit clerks of the state a salary of $200 or $250 per year payable out of the state Treasury, for services rendered in misdemeanor cases for which they now receive no compensation whatever.

It is true that the circuit clerks receive $5.00 for each felony case disposed of and stricken from the docket, and 10 per cent of the fines and forfeitures reported and paid into the Treasury from their respective counties, but in the counties of the remote districts of the state, those fees amount to but little.

For instance a man is indicted for a minor offense, the grand jury returns the indictment, the clerk files it, makes the order, issues the process, issues the subpoena, indexes the case, docks it, enters the Sheriff's return, etc. The first term of court after the indictment was filed comes and the return of process shows the party not found, and on motion of Attorney for Commonwealth the case is continued with alias process, which means the clerk must make another order, issue the process again, enter the number of page on the index, docket the action again and enter another return of the sheriff of "not found."

The second term of court after finding the indictment arrives and the case is continued again with alias process to this and several other counties. It means the clerk must enter another order, index another page number, issue separate processes to each of the counties named, docket the case again, and enter the Sheriff's returns from each of the counties to which he sent processes. This proceeding may be continued probably for 3 or 4 years in some cases, and the clerk is ordered to do the same work at each term of the court. Finally it appears that the man cannot be found at all. The Commonwealth attorney makes a motion that the case be dismissed or filed which is usually the end of it, and the clerk has performed all the work in the case for no pay whatever. You take 40 or 50 similar cases in one county during the course of one or two years, and some idea can be formed of the amount of work the circuit clerks actually do for the state every year, for which they receive no pay whatever. It is true that the Commonwealth has derived no benefit from the actions, but the clerks are not responsible for that. It is a fact that the circuit clerks are the hardest worked set of officials in the state for the pay they get, and in some of the remote counties if it were not for the costs they get out of the civil suits, some of them would have to seek other employment for a living. That is why I say they should receive some fixed salary from the state. It seems that when we send our lawmakers to Frankfort to enact measures for the good of the people in general, that they pass measures favorably to the high officials who already receive more pay than they are entitled to, considering the services they render, and ignore altogether any law that would benefit the hardworked minor officials, who should receive the consideration they are deserving of.

Lets find out this year what the men who want to go to the Legislature from this district will stand for, when they get to Frankfort, and I am sure we are able to choose a man from the list already submitted in Adair county, who is not wishy washy and will do just what he promises to do in the Legislative Halls at Frankfort, when by our votes we bestow upon him the honor of representing us in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, and the other Districts of the state should do likewise, it matters not whether the representative be a Republican or Democrat.

A PIONEER JOURNEY.

Uncle Ben Carter Writes of Wagon Journey to the Southwest, Made in 1851.

The regiment finally got ahead of us. In a short time one of our boys was taken down with the cholera and died in a few days. For his burial we placed the body on an undressed burlap dry buffalo skin and lowered it into the grave by holding to the legs of the skin. We folded the skin over the body and I placed his hat over the face. We filled the grave half full of dirt, then put in a large log to keep wolves from disturbing the body. Several of us had light attacks of cholera, I among others.

Near here we saw the bodies of 16 buffaloes scattered over about four acres of ground. We found that they had been killed by arrows and lances and the Indians had cut the tongues from all that I examined. We also saw a great pile of mules which had been frozen to death during a blizzard. I counted the heads and found that there were about seventy-five. On the return trip, we observed that the bodies lay in straight rows.

I will now relate an incident that occurred, but in connection with it, I cannot describe my feelings. We were camped near the Pawnee river, and about sun-down, we saw about a quarter of a mile from us, some 75 or 100 Indians on their ponies. We had just begun unyoking our teams and the order was given to do so quickly, but I became so weak I could scarcely unyoke and it seemed impossible for me to get my gun, and was ready if they came nearer. They started for us but stopped when about half way from camp and had another parley and then began moving in squads until they surrounded our camp. They were angry and looked savage. They rode without saddle or bridle and guided their ponies perfectly by the motion of their bodies. They were armed with bows, arrows and lances. About dark they left us but we made all preparations for trouble the next morning and placed a double guard on horseback, around our cattle that night. I was placed to guard a part of the cattle, but in some way got lost during the night and did not know where camp was as we never had lights in camp at night, so I had no means of determining. I certainly thought of home and "Old Kentuck." I stayed with my part of the herd and just before day some of the boys found me and it was just sunrise when we reached camp, but we were not bothered by the Indians as we had expected.

When we got to the great bend on the Arkansas river we were about half way to Santa Fe. Our road ran along the valley of the river and we had good water plenty of grass for the cattle and game for ourselves. About 125 miles from this bend was a fort, then called Fort Man. Here I saw the greatest sight of my life. The two regiments of soldiers referred to were at this fort. All among them now seemed well. Here also, were Indians to the number of 30,000. Their tents covered about 80 acres of ground. They claim 7,000 warriors, the others being women and children. We corralled our wagons near the fort in order to get dinner. We found the Indians very angry. They had stolen a mule from the soldiers, and Col. Sumner, the commander of the regiment, had sent orders to their chief that unless the mule was given up by a certain hour, he would turn the batteries on them, so they surrendered him. One Indian told us by signs and by words that they intended to scalp all the pale faces as soon as the sun went down. This Indian while imparting this information, sat on the ground and leaned against the greased hub of my wagon and as his blanket slipped down to his waist, he soon found his back was covered with axle grease. He became very angry and made good use of our language when it came to swearing. Just at this time, two Indian boys came galloping up to my wagon. They stopped and took aim at me with their bows and arrows. I sprang from the ground where I had been sitting and was ready for them in an instant. At this they turned their ponies and rode off, shouting and laughing.

These Indians had met here intending to go to Fort Kearney to make a treaty with the whites and to receive presents from them, and they now made preparations to start. It was interesting to see the manner in which they traveled and carried their camping outfit. They took their longest tent poles and fastened them to the shoulders of the ponies, two or three poles on each side. The other end of the pole was on the ground. Then behind the pony, they tied a large basket to the poles. These baskets were made of bark, in size about five feet long, two and a half feet deep and three wide. These were filled with children, packed in so tight that not one could fall out, generally 8 or 10 in a basket. They were from three to eight years old and were as happy as any children I ever saw. They wore no clothes of any description. Hundreds of ponies were fixed up in this way. They had no drivers but the mothers of the children who rode on other ponies saw to it that they traveled alright. The short tent poles were fastened in the same way to the dogs. Each little child was carried on the mother's back. It took several hours for them to pass us. The soldiers followed the Indians and our band followed the soldiers. The first night all camped near each other. We did not unyoke our teams. I heard our boss say "Every man, sick or well, has to stand guard tonight." I was not feeling well, but went to my wagon and loaded my gun full. I felt that I could only fire one shot so I wanted it to count, but everything was quiet through the night and as soon as it was light enough to see the teams, we hitched them to the wagons and passed through camp. We never saw any of them after that.

We moved up the river about ten miles from Ft. Man and crossed. To do so, we used doubled teams, 12 yoke to a wagon. The river was about waist deep and a fourth of a mile wide. The snow and ice had just come down from the mountains so the water was very cold. We had to make two trips each to get them all over. The sun was hot but we got chilled through. When we were all over, the boss gave us a chance to drink some of his brandy and none of us refused. Here we rested until night and then moved across a country, dry and barren, without water or grass for our cattle. We traveled 60 miles in this way and never unlocked our teams for two days and nights and when we reached the Cinnamon river, the cattle were just fagged out, but here we had plenty of water for them and for ourselves. Some of our men on this long journey would go to sleep while walking. One man went to sleep and started away from the road and we could not wake him until we shook him. A few of the cattle drank so much water, they died in a short time.

To the Democratic Press.

The people of Kentucky can have insured to them when the next session of the Legislature ends, good roads, good school buildings bipartisan control of the penitentiaries, the power to revise the tax system, if they see fit, the overthrow of the lobby and the other reforms of which the State stands in such sore need, if every Democratic newspaper in Kentucky will demand and secure from the Democratic candidate in its legislative district a pledge as to the way in which his vote, in the event that he is elected, will be cast on the following measures:

1. State aid for good roads.
2. The right of the counties to issue bonds to build schoolhouses.
3. A bipartisan board of control for the State's penal institutions, appointed by the Governor, and approved by the Senate, in the place of the political machine and lobby now constituted by the Board of Penitentiary Commissioners maintained at the State's expense. The abolition of the contract labor system. The employment of the convicts in the building of roads.
4. The overthrow of the lobby by the use of the initiative and referendum, if it can be accomplished in no other way.
5. State inspection of State banks.
6. Popular election of United States Senators.

7. A primary for the nomination of all State officers by both parties, the expense to be met by the State, the poor man to be given an equal chance with the rich in offering for office.

8. A constitutional amendment giving the people the right, if they so desire, to revise the tax system.

9. The removal, by law, of the peace officer who fails to protect his prisoner.

The Times here pledges itself to put these questions directly up to every legislative candidate who announces in Louisville or of Jefferson county. It now puts these questions directly to Senator McCreary and to Mr. Addams, the candidates for the Democratic nomination for the governorship. It will make known their response or their failure to respond. It requests of them to answer before the day set for the primary.

The one and only time in which the people control the politicians is when the politicians are dependent on the people for nomination and election. The one and only time in which the people have the power to exact pledges is before nomination and election. The man who goes to Frankfort unpledged is free to make his own terms. The man who goes pledged cannot escape responsibility if his pledges are violated.

There have been strong forces at work in both parties to keep Kentucky illiterate, her roads unbuilt, her prisons the richest spoil in a system of spoils, her taxes oppressive, her elections the prey of the powerful, her lack of law and order a byword for others, a curse to herself. Strong forces will be needed to right these wrongs. The Times as a Democratic newspaper believes that the Democratic press and the people of Kentucky possess the power requisite. As a Democratic newspaper, it calls on them to exercise it, before the power is taken from them by their failure to act.—Louisville Times.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

WED. MAY. 31. 1911,

When death visits a family and removes a member who was weighted with many years, we most generally say he fought a good fight, he ran his course, ready now to enter upon his reward. We know that when old age comes, death soon follows, and we are resigned to the inevitable—nerved to meet it. But when a blooming young woman, the pride of fond parents, idolized by devoted brothers and sisters, loved by all her friends, possessing a most lovable, Christian character, passes over the river of death, it is hard to understand why she was taken. Hence in the removal of Miss Ina Hulse, strong men and strong women were made to weep, and mourners went about our streets. While the silver cord has been loosed and the pitcher broken at the fountain, we must say! Thy will, O God, and resignedly submit, knowing that beyond the veil there will be another meeting.  The death of Miss Clara Wilson, though young, was not a surprise, as she was a victim of pulmonary trouble, a disease from which death is the only relief, though a patient might linger for months and in some instances for several years. Miss Wilson was a young lady of many noble traits of character, ready to meet her God, her true Christian life being known and admired by this entire community. Those to whom she was near and dear, cannot suppress feelings of the deepest sorrow; but knowing that her affliction was incurable by human skill, they should rejoice that she is now free from pain, having entered by way of the straight gate, and is with loved ones gone before.

The Democrats throughout this section of the State are reminded that it is only one month until the State primary, and Mr. Garnett's friends are urged to become active, and be sure to be at the polls Saturday, July 1st. At this time there is scarcely a doubt but the Adair county man will be nominated for Attorney General, but at the same time it is not good politics for his friends to become too sanguine. The men who are generally successful in races are the ones who stir from the rising of the sun to the setting thereof—every day until a settlement has been reached.

President Taft denied the pardon applications of Charles W. Morse, of New York, and John R. Walsh, of Chicago, the two big bank wreckers. The President stated that their crimes were great, or words to that effect, and that their former standing cut no ice with him.

At the meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church held in Atlantic City, N. J., last week, it was agreed that the amendment to the confession of faith, modifying the "elect infant" clause, be submitted to the Presbyteries to be voted on.

Hon. Woodson May, of Somerset, who was importuned to become a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and who received many complimentary notices as to his fitness, has declined to enter the contest for the nomination.

A very enthusiastic good roads meeting was held at Glasgow last Saturday. More than one thousand delegates were present to discuss the proposed central route from Louisville to Lincoln farm and on to the Tennessee line.

The fourth candidate for Railroad Commissioner, subject to the action of the Democrats of the 2nd district is out in the person of Judge John E. Newman, of Nelson county.

President Taft sent a message of congratulation to the new President of Mexico—Francisco Leon de la Barra.

The six months war in Mexico cost about $20,000,000. The new President will take immediate steps to pay the debt.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church will be held in Louisville next year.

Former President Diaz will make his home in Spain.

L. D. Potts, as Administrator of John S. Potts, NOTICE deceased, petitioner ex parte,

Notice is hereby given that I, as Administrator, of the estate of L. D. Potts, lately deceased, in obedience to an order made and entered in the above styled proceeding, at the last March term of the above named Court, will on Monday the 5th day of June, 1911, it being the first day of the regular county court, at the court house door in the town of Columbia, at or near the hour of one o'clock, p. m., on said day, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of three months from day of sale, fifteen shares of the capital stock in the Bank of Columbia, of the par value of $100.00 per share, the book value thereof now being $213.33 per share.

I will offer said shares of stock separately and then all together, and the way the same brings the most money I will sell same. The purchaser will be required to execute to me as Administrator bond, with good and solvent security, for the purchase of same, due and payable in three months, with interest from day of sale until paid. Said shares of stock are represented by certificate No. 12 and were owned by John S. Potts at the time of his death.

Editor News:

As my cousin, the Gradyville correspondent, complimented my letters, I will try again, but I want him to distinctly understand that while I was telling about the large hog I helped to butcher, that I didn't mean in the least to make it appear that Missouri could beat Kentucky on growing large hogs, for I don't think Kentucky could be excelled on hogs or any thing else, and I think the Coburg correspondent can verify my statement, for he spoke of such as we were writing about as being mere pigs by the side of some his neighbor raised, so you see the Gradyville correspondent and myself have never been about enough to know just what the possibilities of Kentucky are. I would love for Coburg to propose a hog show with Gradyville, at the Columbia Fair. I know Gradyville could give them a colt show, and I believe a hog show too.

We were sorry to hear of so much damage done in Adair and adjoining counties from the heavy rains the 29th and 30th of April—glad to know there were no lives lost. It began raining here late in the afternoon Saturday and rained and thundered and lightened all night long. It made me think of the 7th of June four years ago, at Gradyville.

Farmers here have been very busy plowing and planting corn for the last few days. Corn is coming up fine this season. Wheat, oats and meadows are looking fine. People here tell me we have the best prospect for wheat there has been for years.

Mrs. Bettie Burbridge and sons, formerly of Adair county, but who have resided in New Mexico for the past five years, have recently located near Bogard. Mrs. Burbridge and her sister, Mrs. Rosenbaum, boarded at Father's and went to school when I was about ten years old, so you know I am glad to have them locate so near me. I was talking to the boys the other day in Bogard, when Mr. Tom Taylor, another Adair county man walked up and said: "Birds of a feather will flock together." So you see there are more people than myself love to meet Kentuckians. There are quite a number from old Kentucky in and around Bogard. Mr. Russell and his son-in-law, Mr. Carter, came here last Spring from Marion county, Mr. Russell locating in Bogard, and Mr. Carter out in the country a piece. I enjoy listening to Mr. Russell talk, especially when he talks about my old friends and acquaintances, Messrs. H. C. Walker, J. Cager Yates, J. T. Kemp and many others that I knew.

Mr. Harry Shirley who came with me, and George Shirley and Sawney Browning, who came this spring, all have good homes and good jobs.

Well what has become of my old friend and schoolmate, James H. Turk? When I last heard from him he was writing to the News from some where in Arkansas. Jim why not let us hear from you again.

I was glad to read a letter from my old friend Pierce Royse, of Oklahoma, that I used to see so often. I will close by wishing the News and its many readers much success.

Casey Creek.

Bro. May filled his appointment at this place the 1st Sunday.

We had a rain on the 20th, which was badly needed.

Mr. Randal Berger of Louisville, is spending a few days with his aunt, Mrs. E. W. Smith, of this place.

Messrs. J. A. Stayton, J. C. Mann, J. I. Richardson and Randal Berger, were fishing on Green River the last of the week and caught a few cats.

Mr. J. M. Wolford and son, Herby, were in Marion county last week on business.

Mr. P. W. Chelf is now out of the goat business, having sold all his goats to F. C. Land of Casey county.

Miss Gertrude Gabbert who has been teaching in Georgia, for the last five months, has returned home.

Mrs. Nora Burress and children were visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Hendrickson near Clementsville, Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Gabbert of Gadderry, were visiting the former parents, Dr. and Mrs. Z. T. Gabbert Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Martha A. Wethington, an old and much respected lady died on the second inst. She was laid to rest in the McWhorter cemetery. She was eighty years old and had been a member of the Christian church for many years. She leaves a host of friends and relatives to mourn her departure.

The people in this community are highly pleased over the building of the bridge at Neatsville. Let us have plenty of bridges over our water courses and you will see our county develop as it never did before.

D. Knifley sold one milch cow and calf to J. I. Hendrickson one day last week for $42.50; also two yearling steers to Ben Humphress at 4½ cents; also four head of cattle to Henry Collins at 4 and 4½ cents.

Mrs. N. J. Chelf was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harland Penn, of Mannsville, a few days of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gabbert of Athertonville, were visiting Dr. Z. T. Gabbert and family last Saturday night and Sunday.

I will now try to write the News again as I think I can give some of the latest news that some of the News readers hasn't heard.

Well if ever I thought of home and friends it was the other day when bullets flew by me like greased lightning. The battle which I and my companion stood before and watched was one of the greatest battles of the Mexico Revolution.

We were just across the Rio Grande, which is not over one hundred yards wide at this place, and the Mexicans were fighting on the other side of us (just across) river.

Well I guess the News knows about how many was killed in the battle of Juarez Mexico, but may be some of the people doesn't. There were about 180 killed and close to 500 wounded, that is as close to it as can be found out. There was stray bullets went far into the city of El Paso, and killed at least 6 citizens and wounded about twelve.

There has been an armistice signed for peace in Mexico for five days, and I think there will be peace within a short time and I sure hope there will for they are keeping us down here on the border of Mexico, and the sand is about half knee deep.

Well News is scarce with me and I will ring off hoping to hear from some of the Adair county boys soon. Joe K. Sparks, Co. H. 23rd Inf., Font Bliss, Texas.

The Meet at the Green River Monument.

Program of the Ex-Confederate Reunion and decoration to be held at the Confederate Monument near Green River Bridge, on the Columbia and Campbellsville turnpike, in Taylor Co., Ky., on June 3rd, 1911.

1. Called to order at 10 a. m. by chairman, Dr. Grady.
2. Song by all, America.
3. Invocation by Rev. B. M. Currie.
4. Opening address, limited to 20 minutes, W. M. Jackson, Atty Campbellsville, Ky.
5. The Bivouac of the Dead, recitation by Miss Katie Murrell, Columbia, Ky.
6. Decoration of graves.
7. Five minutes talk each by old soldiers, Gray and Blue interspersed with music and song.
8. Talks in the main limited to 5 minutes and to consist of events incident to the civil war.
9. All ex-soldiers are requested to hand their names to Dr. E. A. Waggoner, Secretary, as soon as they reach the grounds.

10. Water will be furnished on the grounds and besides there is a good spring in a short distance.

11. Lunch served on the grounds, beginning at 12 noon, and the ladies are requested to take charge of the spread.

12. After lunch recitation, Blue and Gray by Miss Mabel Atkins, Columbia, Ky., after which talks by old soldiers will be resumed.

13. No intoxicants will be permitted on the grounds.

14. Officers will be present to enforce order if necessary.

15. The object of this meeting is to spend a purely social day, hence an invitation is extended to every body to be present, but particularly to the veterans who wore the Gray and the Blue in the civil war, for in all probability for many of us this will be our last meet.

16. All who can are requested to bring well filled baskets of provisions for it is our purpose to have an old fashioned picnic at the dinner hour.

17. The song service will be conducted by competent leaders and all who can and will take part in this service are requested to bring hymn books that are as much in general use as possible by the different churches.

18. Senator James B. McCreary, of Richmond, Ky., is expected to be present and will give us an interesting talk on the battle of Green River Bridge.

19. Closing address, limited to 20 minutes by Rev. Z. T. Williams, Columbia, Ky.

20. At 4 p.m. close with Home Sweet Home, God be with you till we meet again, and the benediction.

21. The ladies are requested to furnish the flowers for decoration purposes.

Brain Leaks.

When a man begins to worry he begins to weaken.

Advice never appeases the appetite of a hungry man.

What we want and what we need are often vastly different.

We get small credit for bearing the crosses we manufacture for ourselves.

We'd go a long ways to see an old-fashioned grandmother knitting a pair of wool socks.

A city man's "back to the farm." Fever usually subsides after he has spaded up a radish bed in the back yard.

A law against dealing in futures and well enforced, would compel some churches to get down to the earth for a while.

The small boy who used to be the first to go barefooted in the spring is now the man who usually seizes the first opportunity that comes his way.

Unprejudiced.

I think Uncle Sam ought to interfere in that Mexican trouble and restore peace remarked the fat man on the end seat.

What business has Uncle Sam got interfering? queried the slim man who was crowded up in the corner.

It's his business to preserve peace on this continent growled the fat man. There's bloodshed and riot and anarchy going on down there and an attempt being made to overthrow a republic. Uncle Sam ought to stop it.

Farm Notes.

Agriculture is older than history.

Barnyard manure is almost a complete fertilizer.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered from female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

Mr. Cleve Thomas and wife have returned to their home Corbin, Ky.

Farmers in this locality have most completed corn planting. A good rain is all that is needed.

A. C. Thomas and brother were in Taylor county last week,

Mrs. C. A. Thomas and Mont Thomas were shopping in Columbia last week.

There will be preaching at Pollards Chapel on the 4th Sunday in each month also on the first and second Sunday in each month.

Carrollton, Mo.

May 14th, 1911.

Editor News:

Thinking it might be of interest to some of my Adair county friends to know as to my whereabouts and what I am doing for pastime, I will attempt to write a few lines.

I left Columbia Monday morning, April 3rd, arrived at Carrollton Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, where Robt. Wilmore met me, and the rain was just pouring down, for it was a good time to stay for the mud was so sticks that a fellow could not get away very well. But that is all gone now, and the weather is getting hot and the roads are fine.

I am working on a farm eleven miles northeast of Carrollton, six miles from Bosworth.

I like the country fine, and it is a fine farming district. The farmers are a little late with their work and are not yet through planting corn. We had a very heavy rain on Saturday night, April 29th, the creeks were high on Sunday, but very little damage was done as there was not very much corn planted in the bottoms. Wages are good now, $25 to $30 per month.

I would certainly like to be on the L. W. T. S., campus this week, and be with the boys, also see Profs. Neilson and Moss play a game of tennis, but as I am not ready to make the trip, I will wait awhile.

I will close with best wishes for old Kentucky, and if this should escape the waste basket I will try again sometime.

Sawney Browning.

Mrs. Polley Hubbard

Amidst the great changing scenes of life, death has visited one of our homes in the Dulworth community and taken from our midst sister Polly Hubbard, nee Polly Howard.

Sister Hubbard was born Nov. 6, 1836 and died April 20, 1911. She professed religion in early girlhood and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church and in which she lived a most consistent member till death. Her transition brought to a multitude of hearts grief and sadness, which language is inadequate to express, although when we retrospect her life, considering the many noble deeds she did, and the traits she possessed which characterizes loftiest womanhood, then we can say in the language of our sentiments. The Lord's will and not ours be done. Again we hear our consoling Lord say, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea saith the spirit that they may rest from all their labors.

The funeral services were held in Carmel church, conducted by the writer, in the presence of a large and sorrowing congregation. The interment took place in the Carmel Cemetery, where the body awaits the resurrection morn.

Saved Child From Death.

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, laryngeal, asthma, croup and sore lungs, it's the most infallible remedy that's made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Paull Drug Co.

Mr. G. L. Blair is having a nice veranda built and his house reroofed which will improve the appearance of his dwelling very much. Mr. Bill Anderson is doing the work.

Mr. Charlie Floyd is carrying the mail again this week for Mr. J. O. Polley. Mr. Polley is at home planting corn.

Master Garrett Murrell was visiting Messrs. Bascom and R. Polley last Wednesday night.

The boys and girls of the neighborhood had a jolly time at the singing at Concord last Sunday afternoon.

Our Sunday school at Concord is on a boom, both young and old seem to be interested.

Several of our good neighbor ladies have frying chickens ready for the musical association the 3rd Sunday. They consider that their part of the program.

We understand there are several cases of measles in the Ozark county, also one case of diphtheria.

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is always important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menstruation ceases she has always vastly better prospects of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad breath, pimply complexion, headaches, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup.

Pepsin. It is woman's favorite laxative. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to woman's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herrick of Wheeler, Mich., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

For the free sample address Dr. W. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Gradyville.

J. A. Diddle spent last Sunday in Columbia.

J. Q. Alexander, the popular dry goods man, of Campbellsville, was in our midst Wednesday.

W. L. Grady spent last Wednesday in Columbia.

We had a good rain last Sunday, and it was very much needed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Moss attended the funeral of Miss Ina Hulse, at Columbia, last Friday.

Mr. Strong Hill was by the bedside of his brother, Milton Hill, at Knob Lick, a day or so of last week. Mr. Hill is dangerously sick.

Miss Eva Walker, of Columbia, spent several days of last week with her grand parents, near this place.

Mr. J. H. Smith was on the sick list a few days of last week.

Mrs. Geo. H. Nell and son spent one day in Columbia, last week.

Dr. L. C. Nell returned from Louisville last week.

Garnett Morrison, who has been here for the past two months, left us last Saturday for Fry, where he will engage in the blacksmith business. Garnett is an industrious young man, and deserves patronage any where he goes.

Mr. James Morrison, of Fry, was in our midst last Saturday. He looks as young as he did thirty-five years ago, when we were school boys together.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Winters and daughter visited relatives at Summerville, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Moss spent last Sunday with relatives at Greensburg.

We understand the pastor of the Baptist church of Edmonton, will preach here the first Sunday in June, at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nell spent a few days last week, visiting relatives in the Nell community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walker spent a day or so visiting relatives in and near Columbia last week.

Dr. J. H. Grady, of Columbia, was out to see his brother, uncle Thomas, who was on the sick list a few days of last week.

Mrs. W. P. Flowers and Mrs. Geo. Cole were at Knob Lick a few days of last week, by the bed side of their brother, Mr. Milton Hill, who is dangerously ill.

Remember the first Sunday in June is children's day at Union. Services all day.

Mrs. Sallie McCanless, of Edmonton, spent a few days with her relatives at this place last week.

Mr. Robert Simpson, one of Breeding's prosperous farmers, was in our town last Wednesday and reports every thing moving along nicely in his section.

Mr. John Lowe and son, the well-known shoe man, of Columbia, called in to see us on his return from Green county last week. Mr. Lowe informed us that business was very good.

Messrs. Baker & Morrison closed out their hickory business here last Friday. They have only been here a short time, but have made good use of it, as they have up to the present, shipped two car loads of timber.

Mr. Clem Keltner sold, last week, to Prof. Moss, of Columbia, one harness horse, for $100.

W. L. Grady sold for Robert Rowe, of Sparksville, one two-year-old Peacock mare to Tom Wilson, of Hiserville, for $175.

Mr. Elmer Keen, one of our merchants, bought last week, a very desirable building lot consisting of about four acres of land with a house under construction, for $200, from J. A. Diddle.

When Mr. Keen gets his house completed with some other improvements on his lot, it will be a very desirable home.

The heavy rain and storm that came through this section on last Sunday, did not do any damage to our town. We had a fine rain that was very badly needed, and some few of our farmers transplanted a little tobacco. The most damage that we have heard of was done by the lightening that struck a poplar tree on the farm known in this section of the county by the name of the Charlie Pile farm. Mr. Curt Tarter is living there and had three horses that were under the tree when the lightening came, and they were all killed. This loss is certainly very great to Mr. Tarter, for these were all of his horses and it is just now that he needs the service of his stock to cultivate his growing crop. We all should go down in our pockets and donate to him liberally for the purpose of buying an other horse.

Russell Springs.

Our merchants at this place are all enjoying a good trade.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Phelps passed through this place Wednesday enroute to Berea to spend several days.

Mr. James Poppell has been in Somerset for the last few days.

Mr. Tim Irvin is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Ara Wilson condition remains about the same.

Mr. Walter Goff Columbia was in our town on business Friday.

Miss Josie Dockey and Mrs. Russell, Jamestown was shopping in our town Friday.

Mrs. J. H. Marcum and daughter were visiting Mrs. Marcum's sister Mrs. C. Hood near Columbia last week.

The Choir is practicing on some select special music to render during the conference which will begin the 6th of June.

Mrs. Jennie McFarland is here to spend a few days with her brother, Wm Vaughn and attend conference.

The new M. E. Church is completed, will be ready for conference.

Dirigo.

As the writer has been away from home for several days he is not burdened with news.

Mr. John Collins and Miss Georgie Janes were united in marriage last Sunday at the Independence School House Rev. H. T. Jessee officiating.

Mose Wootten fell or was thrown from a mule last Sunday and fractured a knee. It is causing him much pain at this writing.

Amandaville.

We had a fine rain Monday, which had begun to be badly needed, and most every one around here will finish planting corn this week, though there is considerable fencing to be done where it was torn down and washed away by the late flood, that we had in Crocus and West Fork creek.

Hon. W. H. Cole has been on the sick list for some time, and don't improve much.

R. F. Rowe, who has been on the sick list for quite a while, is up and out some now, and will soon be himself again.

Esq. John D Sharp, who fell through a barn loft and came near breaking his right thigh bone, some three weeks ago, and from which he has been laid up most of the time since, is improving slowly, and can walk around some now.

Mr. Gordon Cheatham, who accidentally shot himself through the foot about a month ago, has about recovered.

Geo. Brockman was in Burnside on business, all last week.

Garnett Breeding and Robert Baker went up on the steamer Rowena, to Burnside, last week. Garnett on business, and Robert to visit his friend, Baker Grisom, of that place.

A letter from Zach Collins, who went from here to Moody, Texas, some years ago states that he is intending to return soon to make this his home again, and we will sure be glad to see him, as Zach was one of our best citizens, and one of the very best mechanics that we ever had in this community, and we need him here and can make it healthy for him if he will give us a chance.

R. T. Baker, of this place, bought a fine 4-year-old harness mare from Clarence Beck, of Marrowbone, Monday, for $250. One night last week, some of the Fletcher boys on Pine Branch below here, caught and killed a regular South American Armadillo. No doubt about it being a sure enough Armadillo. Look in your Geography for animals of South America, you will find the picture and description of said animal. This one was of the feminine gender, and from appearances had previously raised a family. No animal of this type was ever seen or heard of in this country before, not even in a show. Now, has any one ever seen or heard of any others in this country any where, and if not, how came this one here. Please answer.

Now Mr. Editor, for fear that my letter will be too long, I will wind up. Permit me to say that while I am no part of a politician that I am straight out Republican, from principle, but if I ever intended to make any change in my voting business, this surely is the time that I would attend to that business, so as to get to vote for my friend, the Hon. James Garnett, of your town, candidate before the Democratic primary for the nomination for Attorney General of the State. I have known Mr. Garnett personally all his life. He is a conservative man, is worthy and well qualified, and a high toned, Christian gentleman in every sense of the term, and if all the State officers of Kentucky for the last decade or two, had been such men as he is, the condition of things in the State to-day would have been in any where from fifty to one hundred per cent better shape for all concerned. So now brother Democrats, if you want to do any good in your business, just get out plenty of candidates like Mr. Garnett, and see if you can't blot out or cover up the most of your past record, then you will stand a good chance to do something, otherwise we have got you where we are going to floor you every time.
